

rpdom wrote:

You don't need sudo.

Everything in /etc/rc.local runs as the root user.

Also, you can group commands together using ().

The following should work in /etc/rc.local

CODE: SELECT ALL

```
(sleep 10;python scriptname.py) &
```

The () make both commands run in the background.

Excellent. Thanks 😊

Alex Eames RasPi.TV, RasP.iO